THE CITY SCHOOLS.

Exercises to Which the Public are Invited, and When They will Occur.

The City Schools, after another year's work, will soon close for the summer vacation. The final examinations will close June 14. The exercises, to which the public generally are cordially invited, will be as follows:

Monday, June 17, 9 a. m.—Exercises of the Kindergarten and first primary.

10 a. m.—Exercises of grades 5, 6, 7 and 8.

8 p. m.—Entertainment by the class in literature at the Opera House.

Tuesday, June 18, 10 a. m.—Exercises by grades 2, 3, 4 and fifth division of grade 5.

8 p. m.—Commencement exercises at the Opera House. The annual address to the class will be delivered by Rev. F. S. Pollett. Diplomas will be presented by Rev. R. L. McCready.

On both days a display of school work will be on exhibition in room 2 of the school building.

The meeting of the Alumni Association will occur on Thursday evening, June 20.

The following is the programme of the closing events of the colored public school:

Monday, June 17, 10 a. m.—Exercises in the chapel by pupils of the primary grades.

Tuesday, June 18, 10 a. m.—Exercises by the intermediate and grammar grades in the school chapel.

On both days, from 12 to 2 p. m., there will be a public inspection of school work in the different rooms of the building.

Wednesday, June 19, 8 p. m.—High School commencement—Exercises at Opera House.

The public cordially invited to all the above exercises.

Court Day Crowd.

There was a large crowd in town Monday, it being court day. The usual number of horse trades were made, but little stock was offered for sale and the farmers seemed to be mainly engaged in discussing politics. The candidates for the Democratic nomination for Representative were getting around, shaking hands and seeing the boys, and candidates for county offices to be filled next year were urging their claims for the positions they desire to fill. Gen. P. W. Hardin, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, spoke at the Court House at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. W. H. Mayo, as executor of the late Tab Smith, offered the Fort Hill property at public sale; but, receiving no bids for the same, could not dispose of it.

Fire of the Week.

On Sunday night about 10 o'clock a large swinging lamp exploded in the grocery of Mr. Luke Taffe, on Main street, immediately opposite the Capital Hotel, and an alarm of fire was turned in from box 21. The department responded promptly, but as the lamp was jerked down and thrown into the street, little damage was done and no water was thrown.

Sunday morning about 1 o'clock an alarm was sent in from box 15, occasioned by the burning of the building at the Hermitage Distillery, in which the still stop was manufactured into feed. Owing to the fact that the lines were crossed and the alarm did not come in correctly, the department was slow getting out, and the fire was well underway when they reached the scene. The building was destroyed and the machinery it contained so badly damaged as to be useless, entailing a loss of about $10,000, with no insurance. In addition to this is the loss of the stop, which was being made into feed, and which now has to be run into the river, the value of which is about $25 per day.

The alarm from box 33 Tuesday afternoon was caused by the burning of a pile of trash on the river bank, near Wakefield's mill.

A Matrimonial Surprise.

Mr. Virgil Hewitt, Assistant Auditor of the State, and Miss Judith Drane, eldest daughter of Judge George C. Drane, were quietly married at Ascension Church Thursday morning at 6 o'clock, by Rev. R. L. McCready.

The wedding was quite a surprise to the friends of the contracting parties, as they had kept the matter a profound secret from everyone except their immediate families.

The happy groom was a widower with two grown sons, who has captured one of the most accomplished and popular young ladies of the city. They left at 7 o'clock that morning over the Kentucky Midland for a bridal trip to Niagara.

Had a Nice Time.

The Junior Endeavor Society of the Christian Church were given a picnic one and a half miles beyond Switzer, on the Midland Railroad, Saturday afternoon, by Miss Annie Thomas, at which the young folks enjoyed themselves to their hearts content.

General Superintendent George B. Harper of the Midland, not only made an exceedingly low rate for the party over the road but went along and assisted the little ones in having a good time.

It Was Hot.

The signal service thermometer at the Custom House registered 97.5° on Monday which was about the hottest June day ever experienced in this locality, the memory of the oldest inhabitant to the contrary notwithstanding.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cents. For sale by John W. R. Williams & Co.

MANUAL TRAINING.

An Essential Element in Education.

Training is necessarily confined to beings possessed of life. Life force is inherent in man, in animals and in plants. No inanimate being can be trained, it can only be moulded. Training an animate being, be it plant, animal or man, makes it more valuable, more effective or more beautiful, providing the proper training is given. An untrained hand is almost useless. An untrained mind is stunted, impotent. Train the mind to its highest activity and a genius is the result. Train the hand to its highest activity and a genius is the result. In the one case we have a Newton and in the other a Michael Angelo.

What a wonderful instrument is the human hand? It carves the beautiful statues; paints the rich picture; builds the majestic ship; ere ts the magnificent palace; constructs the railroad and the machine which lightens labor, and in an infinity of ways enables the mind to attain its ideals. The hand is the agent of the mind in all its dealings with matter. Is it reasonable then that such an effective being as the hand should be slighted; should remain untrained, or receive only such hazard training as the untrained mind of its youthful possessor may give it? Is any scheme of education complete which does not provide for the training of the child's constructive powers?

Prof. Ordway, of Tulane University, New Orleans, La., says: "The essential goodness of manual training in connection with ordinary school training is now universally admitted by experienced and practical teachers and other persons. Mere book-schooling breeds wants faster than it develops the ability to provide for them." The outcome is misery. Tool-craft helps to realize the aspirations which book learning inspires."

Prof. Richard Piez, Baltimore, Md., says: "The old schools have done and are doing a wonderful work, but a new want has arisen—other powers are demanded, and must be cultivated. We do not want less of the old schools, but more of the new. We want schools where the eye and the hand as well as the brain can be trained."

Prof. H. T. Kenyon, Montgomery, Ala., says: "To neglect the training of such an important agent as the human hand is in direct violation of the right of childhood to the best and highest education, which the State is in duty bound to give. Such neglect results in a great loss to the child, personally, and eventually a great loss to the State in its commercial and manufacturing interests. It is a wise policy, therefore, for school authorities to establish and maintain industrial education in their schools."

[Concluded next week.]

Want Free Turnpikes.

Petitions are being circulated and generally signed asking the County Court to order an election to take the sense of the people of the county as to whether the turnpikes in the county shall be free of toll. The petition circulated in the Thorn Hill precinct has been signed by one hundred and twenty voters—only three persons in the precinct having refused to sign it so far—and the one being circulated here in the city has several hundred signatures.

Horse Stolen.

Some thief broke open the door of the stable at the residence of Mrs. L. B. Longmoor, on Second street, Sunday night and carried off her carriage horse. The animal happened to be so lame in one of his fore feet that the rascal could not make much headway with him and turned the horse loose on the Lawrenceburg pike, and the faithful old fellow was making his way back home when found Monday morning.

HUDSON, HUMPHRIES & CASSELL

A GRAND COMMENCEMENT.

Frankfort College Gives Us Something New and of a High Order in Educational Work.

The commencement exercises of Frankfort Young Ladies College were excellent and reflected high honors upon the institution and the community. The programme was elaborate, and it is safe to say, both in quality and quantity, ranked with those given by our older colleges. All in the large audiences attending were delighted with the various exercises and praised them in royal terms.

Such literature and aesthetical feasts are as profitable as they are pleasing, such as elevate and enoble society. An institution furnishing such culture of mind, heart and manners, an education of the high order and breadth and tone shown in what the teachers and pupils of the college favored us with this past week, will have, as it deserves, the hearty support of the public.

The Philomathean Society led off with an open meeting last Friday evening. After a spicy welcome by the President, Miss Ora Scottow, this programme was given:

Music—Miss Kavanagh.

Essay—Life of Mrs. Browning—Miss Elizabeth Holt.

Recitation—Romance of the Swan's nest among the reeds—Miss Mary Headley.

Music—Vocal Solo—Miss Ethel Dixon, with violin, Miss Sophie Hendrick.

Essay—Works of Mrs. Browning—Miss Patti Graham.

Recitation—Catinas to Camvans—Miss Sarah Alexander.

Music—Guitar—Misses Jane Baumes, Sudie Crutcher and Dyke Hazelrigg.

Recitation—Two scenes from Corneille's "Le Cid."

PERSONS.

Don Fernand, Miss Brownie Parent, Don Alonzo . . . Miss Eleanor Cannon, Don Flegue . . . Miss Jamie Baumes, Chinme . . . Miss Ethel Dixon.

Music—Vocal Solo—Miss Baumes.

"A LESSON IN ELEGANCE."

Mrs. Faye, a woman of the world—Miss Nellie Baumes.

Constance Dorne, an unsophisticated young widow—Miss Carrie Bruce.

Mrs. Woodville Willing, their aunt—Miss Elizabeth Robinson.

Sophy, a maid—Miss Sudie Crutcher.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached last Sunday morning by Rev. Dr. J. M. Worrall, of Centre College, and was greatly enjoyed by the large audience which filled the First Presbyterian Church. It was able, appropriate and replete with original practical thought applicable to others as well as the students to whom specially addressed.

The junior pupils gave an entertainment Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the college chapel, which charmed those in attendance and brought rounds of applause and an abundance of bouquets. The following programme was given:

Piano Solo—Sing, Smile—Mary Rieb and Ursula Brady.

Recitation—Grandma Always Does—George Harris.

Chorus—Cuckoo Song—Sallie Pence.

Piano Duet—Marche—Katie Branch and Sallie Pence.

Callisthenics.

Piano Solo—Spring Song—Emma Pence.

Recitation—A Dutchman's Thoughts—Edgar Harris.

The Man in the Moon.

Recitation—A Foolish Little Maiden—Mary Rieb.

Piano Duet—My First Waltz—Emma Pence and Katie Branch.

Chorus—Postillion.

Recitation—Grandpa's Spectacles—Genevieve Posey.

The Little Milkmaid—Cornelia Crutcher and Paul Collins.

The Little Shaking Quakers.

Pantomime—Mary Headley, Virginia Chinn, Emma Pence, Genevieve Posey, Annie Anderson, Mary Rieb, Mary Anderson, Sallie Pence, Katie Branch, Julia Murray.

At 2 p. m. the graduates read their essays to an attentive audience. The subjects were but of the usual line and such as awakened interest in what might be said upon them. Miss Elizabeth Hunt Chinn wrote upon Illusions of Life; Miss Elizabeth Pearl Richardson upon A Poet's View of Paradise, and Miss Hallie Elizabeth Rodman upon the question, Does Nature Prophesy? For originality of thought, real elegance of diction and the natural graceful manner in which read, these essays compared favorably with the best. They showed utmost carefulness in preparation.

Monday evening the Opera House was filled—packed to the uppermost gallery—by an audience such in appearance and deportment and intelligent appreciation of a good literary, musical and aesthetical entertainment is seldom seen or any occasion. The pupils had been carefully instructed and drilled, all seemed at their best and spoke and acted as if conscious that what they were to give was the best ever heard or seen. Everybody was pleased, and smiled, laughed, clapped their hands, sent up elegant bouquets and encored and encored.

The programme was as follows:

Piano Duet—Daisies of the Meadow—Misses Carrie Bruce and Nellie Baumes.

Recitation—Lasca—Miss Elizabeth Pearl Richardson.

At night, beginning at 8 o'clock, a reception was given at the college. The graduates assisted Dr. and Mrs. Baumes in receiving, and there was present a wealth of youthful pretty femininity, and for once they had all the "attention" they would or could receive. Many of the first people of the city called during the evening, and the reception was a social success.

Will Discuss Money.

PART II.

Piano Duet—Valse Brillante—Julia Rive King—Misses Ethel Dixon and Lethe Dunigan.

THE PRINCESS.

(Alfred Tennyson.)

Dramatic Personae.

Princess Ida—Miss Scottow.

Lady Psyche—Miss Richardson.

Lady Blanche—Miss Hallie Rodman.

Melissa—Miss McHenry.

Violet—Miss Dixon.

The Prince—Miss Elizabeth Hunt Chinn.

Florian—Miss Janie Baumes.

Cyril—Miss Alexander.

Gems—King and father to Ida—Miss Elizabeth Holt.

Ipse—Miss Hallie Scott.

Pupils, Attendants, &c. — Misses Lettie Rodman, Mary Headley, Prue Rodman, Lucy Lee, Lizzie Robinson, Lucy M. Sanders, Emily Scott, Nellie Staten and others.

SCARF DRILL.

Misses Prue Rodman, Eleanor Cannon, Sudie Crutcher, Lizzie Robinson, Sue McHenry, Brownie Parent, Carrie Bruce.

Quartette—"Silently They Steal Away," (which proved to be a joke on many who failed to understand it.)

As a proper tribute to the closing exercises of Tuesday and for report of the Reception at the College in the evening, we give the appreciative report of our neighbor, the Capital, under the caption "Sweet Girl Graduates."

The Opera House presented a pretty scene Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The occasion was the commencement exercises of Frankfort College.

On the handsomely decorated stage were the three extremely pretty graduates, and ranged in the front rows below, the other pupils of the school, with their mothers, sisters and friends, made up a very bouquet of loveliness.

Rev. W. C. Taylor prayed, and Dr. Baumes introduced Hon. J. H. Beauchamp, of Lexington, who delivered a most interesting, finished and eloquent commencement address. His subject was the "Responsibilities of Girlhood and Womanhood."

Dr. Baumes delivered the diplomas with an impressive address to the graduates. The latter were Miss Elizabeth Hunt Chinn, Miss Hallie Elizabeth Rodman and Miss Elizabeth Pearl Richardson.

At night, beginning at 8 o'clock,

The readers of the ROUNDABOUT will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity.

Cataract is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional treatment.

Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foreign matter in the disease, and increasing the patient's strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any person that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

FORKS OF ELKHORN.

Rev. Sticker, of Georgetown, filled appointment of Pastor Mitchell at Buck Run last Sunday.

Bro. Burdin will minister to his congregation at Graenbog to-day and to-morrow, at the usual hours.

Mr. Llewellyn Cannon was elected school trustee for this district, No. 9, last Saturday. All quiet.

The cut worm, having run his course, has retired for the season.

A most welcome rain visited us last Tuesday, causing all nature to put on new life.

Willie Parrent is at home from Georgetown College. Mr. J. V. Phillips, of Mississippi, who has also been attending the same institution, is his guest.

Miss Hannah Newman is in Louisville visiting her sisters, Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Beard.

Mr. F. M. Featherstone has the best field of corn in this vicinity.

The tobacco men took advantage of the splendid season last Wednesday and finished setting their crop.

Your type, in last week's issue, made us say Miss Je mie Featherstone's chickens were the swiftest, when it should have been thriftest.

Mrs. Mattie Crim and daughter, Pinky, have returned to their home at Beard's, Shelby county, from a visit to relatives in our village.

Since the splendin rains this week, fishing in "Silver Lake" has been renewed with excellent success.

Mrs. Kate Murphy, of Rich mond, is visiting friends and relatives in the county.

A very distressing accident occurred in our midst last Thursday evening. Johnnie Vandeventer and his little brother were shooting turtles at the Macklin dam, when the gun used burst in the hands of Johnnie, seriously wounding him in the face, probably causing the loss of the right eye. At this writing, however, the full extent of the injury has not been ascertained.

The boys are sons of Mr. Larkin Vandeventer, and reside at "Green Hill."

Benson Valley.

Tobacco setting is about over, thanks to the glorious rains.

The attendance at the June meeting at old North Benson was immense. Bro. Burdin discoursed to the congregation in his usual felicitous style.

Capt. D. O. Robinson, candidate for the Legislature, was in attendance on June meeting and shook hands with his many constituents.

Mr. W. Wade, a dashing young gentleman of this vicinity, is paying marked attention to a South Frankfort beauty, and is therefore in favor of free pikes.

Mr. Floyd Arnold will lead the pretty and accomplished Miss Florence Moore to the altar next Wednesday evening at early candle lighting. The ceremony will be at the church.

Rev. J. H. Burdin preached very acceptably at the Choate Academy Sunday afternoon.

Who is the president of the Rock Haven pike anyhow?

The old county mill road down by Conway's has been closed by gates. The Benson Valley seems in a fair way to be fenced up altogether.

Col. J. K. Polk occupies the most of his time hauling gay widows about. It is expected that he will be the next to leave the docket. Joy be with you, old fellow.

A ponderous gate has been erected across the county road in front of the Rock Haven mansion. This is contrary to law.

The contest in the Choateville school trustees' contest was exceedingly hot. James Black and H. Spalding were the victors. A male teacher will be selected. No gallant gentleman will take a position like that over a lady. Teaching is almost the only vocation that a lady can fill to make a little money, and she ought to have it. We are for the ladies all the time.

Now ain't the chaps who style themselves the directors of the Rock Haven pike a pretty set? A week or so ago the Court of Claims met to make appropriations for turnpikes. Free turnpikes, not one of that honorable body was present. Now I think when people who undertake to do anything fail to do it—the next thing in order would be resignations. We did hear that there was a small job in all this, but we trust it not true. It is now in order for some of that honorable body to arise and explain.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

Published at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class mailable matter.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, JUNE 8, 1894.

Well, Hardly.

The following appeared in the editorial columns of the Louisville Times of Wednesday afternoon:

Just about fifteen years ago there was a Republican State Convention assembled in this town. A certain Jaykawker from the "mountings," one John D. White, was a delegate, and the Hon. Walter Evans, fresh from a skirmish at Middletown, was the Permanent Chairman. The aforesaid White had run the Democratic Legislature of Kentucky the winter previous, and had whipped the Speaker in a fist fight. He attempted to be every man in the convention, but was frequently called down by the Chairman. And by, in a rage, the Hon. White exclaimed: "Mr. Chairman, who's running this convention anyhow?" To which the Chairman, as imperious as that icle that hung on Diana's temple, replied: "Th t is a matter about which opinion is probably divided; but it is evident the gentleman from Clay county is not running it, and he can take notice, now, that as long as the present occupant of the chair presides, the gentleman from Clay will not run it." And neither did he at any stage of the game. Another Republican convention is in session in Louisville this good day, and there are indications that the man who ran the convention of 1880 is not running that of 1895—at least he is not the Temporary Chairman, though that dignity with a string attached was offered him.

The above is just about as accurate as the information of a Chicago young man who sat by our side one afternoon, en route from that city to the World's Fair, in June, 1893. As the train whirled by the Douglas monument on Lake Front, he remarked, "Here's where the soldiers camped during the war and I guess that man Douglas died here while in camp." "No," we replied, "he was United States Senator from Illinois at the time of his death at his home in this city." "Oh, well, he died all right, didn't he?" said the young man.

The truth is the Republican convention of 1880 was called to order by Hon. George Denny, then chairman of the State Central Committee, who presided until a temporary chairman was elected, and while doing so had a tilt with Mr. W. H. Hon. John W. Lewis, who became temporary chairman and the late Gen. James Speed was afterwards elected permanent chairman. The latter gentleman sat down upon Mr. White and the Times can say, like the Chicago young man, "well White was sat upon all right, wasn't he?" but is badly mixed in the balance of its item. The convention of 1880 sent Mr. Evans as a delegate to the Chicago Convention, and whether or not there was any string attached to the offer to make him temporary chairman of the convention which met in Louisville this week we are unable to say, but he was made permanent chairman of that body, which is a much greater honor.

Like a Sieve.

The chief function to the kidneys is to separate from the blood, in the renal tubules, the urine and waste products which make their final exit through the bladder. The retention of these, in consequence of inactivity of the kidneys, is productive of Bright's disease, dropsy, diabetes, albuminuria and other maladies with a fatal tendency. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a highly nutritious medicine, restores the kidneys when inactive to their full function, and strain from the vital organs is relieved. It is the kidney that gives them their own existence as organs of the body. Catarrh of the bladder, gravel and retention of urine are removed and dispelled by the action of the Bitters, which is also speedily beneficial to the week and nervous.

JERUSALEM.

Rev. George Darsie Views the Sights Around the Holy City.

Rev. George Darsie is now well on his way home. Thursday he left Rustchuk by saloon steamer, traveled up the Blue Danube to Belgrade and Buda-Pesth and took the train to Vienna, where he arrives Monday. In the following letter he tells what he saw around Jerusalem:

Writing up Jerusalem compels two letters. The first shall touch upon its environs, and the second upon the city proper. Truth compels me to say that the former is a more interesting theme than the latter, for the simple reason that the sights around the city are the more genuine. The first two things we saw were by all odds the most impressive to me. They were Calvary and the Tomb of Christ. Not since this journey began, and perhaps never before in my life, was my heart so stirred as when my eyes alighted upon these objects of sacred interest. True, these locations are not fixed beyond the shadow of doubt, but the presumption in their favor is to me so strong that I am unable to resist it. Nearly all Protestant authorities now agree that the crucifixion took place on the hill just north of Jerusalem and over what is known as Jeremiah's Grotto. It was the former place of Jewish execution: its configuration is the shape of a skull: it was at the cross-roads where everybody passing by could see it; it was outside the city walls. The Jews to this day spit toward the place and curse it as they pass. In a word it seems to meet all the requirements of the case, and for thirty years past opinion has rapidly strengthened in favor of this spot, until there are to-day hardly any who dissent from it. Every time I passed it I could see in my mind's eye the three crosses uplifted on it, the gaping and shouting crowd, the weeping women—the whole tragic scene of the crucifixion. Our camp was pitched less than a hundred yards from the place and we went to it again and again. But at no time were our hearts more stirred, after the first view, than on Sunday morning when our whole party gathered there and held a religious service. The service was conducted by Dr. DeWitt Clark, of Salem, Mass., who appropriately read first the forty-eighth Psalm and then Luke xxiii:35. After a touching prayer by Dr. G. R. Leavitt, of Cambridge, Mass., and alternating with such familiar hymns as "Rock of Ages," "My Faith looks up to thee," "Christ for the World we sing," and "Nearer my God to thee," impressive remarks were made by various members of our party, ending with a very well-timed talk by our American Consul, Hon. S. M. Wallace, who, with his wife, was an interested member of the little congregation. It was throughout a service which moved us to the depths and left us in a tender mood for the entire day. It is only once in a life time that a person has the privilege of attending such a meeting.

The Tomb of Christ is about fifty yards to the West of Calvary. It was identified only about four years ago by a Missionary in Jerusalem, who realizing that the place of burial must be near the place of crucifixion, began searching for it along a ledge of natural rock in a garden nearby. After repeated efforts at different points, he finally succeeded in thrusting his cane into an opening in the ledge a foot or so below the surface and having satisfied himself that something worth excavating was there, reported his discovery to Dr. Haskett Smith, a well-known expert on Jerusalem topography, and soon the tomb was opened and laid bare. It was in a garden to start with. Though of course not conclusive, that fact tallied with the Scripture narrative. It was a new tomb wherin never man was laid, except the One who rose again. Its other loci were never occupied and some of them never finished. It was hewn out of the solid rock. It was the tomb of a rich man, because no other could afford the cost of excavating it. You could not see into it with any satisfaction from without, even by stooping down; and this explains why Peter went right into the morning of the resurrection. A large perpendicular opening, after you have descended into a little vestibule about eight feet below the surface of the ground, leads into it, which would require "a great stone" to close it up. When you enter you find that it was held in great reverence, for it had been used as a chapel, small as it is. The cross frescoed in the rock and the alpha and omega on each side of it beset this. And those who know say that the alpha corresponds exactly to the peculiar form in which that letter was made in the first century, and that the same can be said of the cross. What is more, a tomb was found adjoining it which bore the very significant inscription that the occupant was buried "near his Lord." This is a brief and very inadequate statement of the evidence on which the identification of the tomb of Christ rests. It may not seem strong to others, but it does to me. And while of course the case is not demonstrated, a high degree of probability is established, enough at least as I stood in the sacred spot to make my heart beat fast and my eyes fill with tears. One remarked in a whisper, "Come see the place where the Lord lay." And I almost thought I could see "the linen clothes" lying, "and the napkin which was about his head, wrapped together in a place by itself." And I could almost see the two angels standing, one at the head and the other at the foot, and hear one of them say, "He is risen; He is not here." Never before did any spot on earth seem so holy to me, and never before did the sight of any spot of earth touch me with such a strange, deep and tender emotion. I shall to my dying day carry that vivid experience in my memory. To go from this real tomb of Christ and this real site of Calvary into the city and there see the places of which tradition, regardless of scriptural testimony, has fixed for these holy spots, and then to note the mummery by which they have been surrounded, were enough almost to sicken me. But of this in my next letter.

Go with me now around the wall of Jerusalem to the eastern side. We enter the valley of Jehoshaphat, in the bottom of which once flowed "the sweet gliding Kedron." On your right rises the city wall, high on your left rises the mount of Olives. At a point on the left of the valley, opposite about midway of the wall, there in a beautiful flower-garden enclosed by a high stone fence. I noted that in size the garden was about "a stone throw" each way. Within among the flowers rise several gnarled and knotted olive trees of great age. Once as the light of the full moon shone down through the branches of these old olive trees (or their predecessors) our Saviour lay prone upon the earth, sweating as it were great drops of blood, and in agony prayed to his Father. The shadows of Golgotha were creeping over his soul. He was tasting by anticipation the bitter cup that on the morrow he must drink to its dregs. No heart of sympathy is near to share his woes. Yonder lie the sleeping three whom he had chosen to help him in this dread hour. Alone he fights the battle and alone he gains the victory. New strength in answer to his prayer comes from above, and when at length he said "Rise, let us be going," he was himself again. Yes, this is Gethsemane. Let yourself yield to the magic spell with which it binds, for there is no doubt that this is the very scene of our Saviour's agony. But let us go to the top of this mount of Olives, on the side of which Gethsemane stands and see what is there. Two or three churches of the Ascension have been erected at different points on the mount, but when your Bible tells you "He led them out as far as to Bethany," you pass them all by and look for the place where Christ ascended, farther to the east. There on that little rise of ground near by and overlooking Bethany, is as likely to be the spot as any. None other seems to fit the Biblical requirements so well. In going to it you pass the site of Bethpage, where tradition says Jesus cursed the barren fig-tree, and beyond it you enter the place of all places where Jesus loved to stay—historic Bethany. The grave of Lazarus is still pointed out, also the ruins of the house of Simon, the leper, the foundation of the house of Mary and Martha, and out yonder a half a mile or so the point where the weeping sisters met Jesus on his return to Bethany after their brother's death. But we must return to the summit of Olivet. Here within four or five years the Russians have erected an immense tower, two hundred feet high, from the top of which you get a magnificent view. The Dead Sea and Jordan Valley lie at your very feet. The Hill country of Judea seems a succession of little knolls beneath you. Above the north rise the loftier hills of middle Palestine. Dozens of towns and villages in that direction dot the landscape. Beyond the western heights you can almost discern the blue Mediterranean, and you are tempted to stand on tip-toe for the necessary additional elevation. But on nothing do you so fix your gaze as on the city of Jerusalem, of which you here get by far the fairest view. What a concentration of momentous history does that little walled city before you represent! When can the day ever come that the sight of Jerusalem will awake other than the sweetest and holiest thoughts in a Christian's heart? But we must not linger here. Let us again descend into the Valley of Jehoshaphat. At every step interesting sites, more or less trustworthy, are pointed out. Here tradition locates the spot where Stephen, the first martyr, was stoned, and right above you going into the city is St. Stephen's gate, the only open gate along the entire eastern wall. Near by is the tomb of Mary, the mother of our Lord. A little farther down is Absalom's tall pillar, the foundations at least of which are supposed to be genuine. Then we pass the tombs of Jehosephar and of Zacharias. Down, down we go. The city wall rises higher and higher on your right. On your left is the leper's village of Siloah, and many of its maimed and repulsive wretches are holding up hands and tin buckets for backshish, and entreating you in piteous tones as you pass. Soon you arrive at the Virgin's Pool, fed by an intermittent conduit and very ancient and interesting but not specifically named in Scripture, I believe. You go down two long flights of stone steps to reach the water, and you find girls carrying away heavy skin vessels full as you descend. In the dark cavern at the bottom I found a young baby sitting alone on the damp stones, and further on in the water was the mother, up to her knees, doing her week's washing. Still down the valley we go, and two other pools are seen, upper and lower Siloam, the former now perfectly dry and the latter full of the filthiest smelling water you could imagine. The sewers of the city have been recently turned into it, the sewage flows out to pollute the whole valley. It was in the upper pool of Siloam that our Saviour sent the blind man of John ix, to wash and receive his sight. Now we reach the point where the valleys of Jehoshaphat and Hinnom unite, and over there is a series of caves in the hillside at Aceldama where Judas is said to have hanged himself in the field bought by the thirty pieces of silver for which he betrayed his Lord. A little below is En Rogel (Job's well), probably the most ancient landmark about Jerusalem—a well from which it is thought by many that Abraham drank. The important Scriptural history connected with it I should love to recount, but my space is already filled. Again and again I saw all these great scenes and they filled me to overflowing with the mighty things for which they stand.

MR. ALEXANDER'S RECORD.

Was Not a Friend to this People.

Hon. George H. Alexander, of Jefferson county, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner from this district, and for the information of the Democratic voters of Frankfort and Franklin county the following joint resolution offered by him while a member of the last Legislature, is published:

WHEREAS, The seat of government of this Commonwealth is located at a disadvantageous and unsafe point, considering the wealth, convenience and comfort of the various officials and citizens whose presence is required at the seat of government from time to time; and

WHEREAS, There is no eligible building site at or near the present seat of government, wherein to construct or erect a capitol building or buildings such as circumstances appear to demand; and

WHEREAS, The tract of land upon which the capitol building is owned by this Commonwealth now stands is inadequate in area and undesirable for that purpose; and

WHEREAS, This tract of land upon which the capitol building is owned by this Commonwealth now stands is inadequate in area and undesirable for that purpose; and

WHEREAS, Said city is the metropolis of the State of Kentucky, and much more ease of access by reason of the railroad and other facilities for cheap transportation from all parts of this Commonwealth than any other point within the limits of this Commonwealth and State;

WHEREAS, It is believed that the citizens of said city of Louisville, and the county of Jefferson, in which said city is situated, will donate to the Commonwealth a suitable ground at or near said city upon which to erect such capital building or buildings as may be necessary; and

WHEREAS, Said capital building or buildings can be erected at considerably less cost and of more durable material at much less cost than at any other point within this Commonwealth, therefore

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

That the seat of government for this Commonwealth be removed to a site at or near the said city of Louisville, and within the limits of Jefferson county in this Commonwealth, so soon thereafter as such a site can be obtained in the most suitable form as may be provided by law, and suitable building or buildings erected thereon, as may be lawfully provided.

Sec. 2. That the act to take effect at once because of the emergency which requires its immediate passage. The emergency is due to the fact that the seat of government should be removed from the present site and a new and immediate work be begun in order to secure to the people of the Commonwealth the benefits herein enumerated within a reasonable length of time.

Very Ill Men.

Major H. T. Stanton, Kentucky's poet laureate, who returned Sunday from Chicago a very ill man, has since been hovering between life and death at his home on Shelby street, and his friends and physicians have almost given up hope of his recovery. He rested well Thursday night however, and yesterday morning the symptoms were some better. Let us earnestly hope that he may yet be spared for many years to his family and friends.

LATER—About noon yesterday Maj. Stanton had another chill, and there is now little or no chance of his recovery.

Mr. D. C. Barrett, who has been confined to his room for several weeks, and part of the time to his bed, we are glad to say was some better yesterday.

Base Ball.

At Thorn Hill Park to-day the home club will cross bats with the State College team of Lexington, and a good game is expected. The boys have been practicing constantly for nearly a month and now feel confident of being able to give a good account of themselves. Summer in Frankfort without base ball would almost be like the play of Hamlet with the Melancholy Dane left out, and if the public desire this, their only hot weather amusement, to be continued during the season they should indicate that fact by turning out in large numbers this afternoon. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

Ground Broken.

Mr. John A. Kleber has let the contract for the erection of his new building on Bridge street to the Frankfort Brick Company for $3,000. The building is to be of brick, two stories high and built according to a plan drawn by Messrs. Oberwarth & Wade, architects. The Brick Company broke ground for the foundation Thursday.

Another Richmond in the Field.

Mr. Jas. A. Violett, the popular lawyer, has announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Legislature. Hon. E. H. Taylor, Jr., has positively declined to become a candidate, so the race seems now to be made up between Messrs. W. J. Lewis, Chas. H. Julian and Mr. Violett, and the fun can begin.

U. S. Court Next Week.

The United States District Court will meet in this city on Monday, when the usual number of moonshine cases will be tried and some little civil business transacted.

Improvements.

Mr. John T. Buckley had the Capital Artificial Stone Company put down a sidewalk of hexagonal blocks in front of his handsome residence on Second street this week.

Judge B. G. Williams is also having the same kind of sidewalk put down in front of his property on the corner of Second and Main streets.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. are urged to be present tomorrow afternoon in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church to meet the prospective Secretary and assist in welcoming him to Frankfort. All the members should aid in making this a rousing meeting.

Deaths.

ROBB—Mr. James Robb died at his home in Hawesville on Friday of last week and was buried on Sunday. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Jos. Robinson, of this city, and Mrs. Sallie Crockett, of this county.

THE NEW F. F. V. LIMITED

Commencing Sunday, May 13th, the F. F. V. Limited will leave Cincinnati daily at 12:20 noon, arriving at Washington at 7:40 a.m., Baltimore 9:00 a.m., Philadelphia 11:20 a.m. and New York 1:40 p.m. The train will consist of Composite Car, Elegant Day Coach, with Smoking Compartment, Dining Car, Pullman Sleeping Cars of the latest and most improved design, and an Observation Car. Emphasis is especially placed on the Observation Car. Built by the Pullman Company from Chesapeake and Ohio plans, the F. F. V. Observation Cars serve their purpose better than any others that have ever been constructed.

As the F. F. V. Limited is the only train having an Observation Car attached, that the Chesapeake and Ohio R'y also has scenery interesting enough to demand an Observation Car. The F. F. V. Limited is the only train running through from Cincinnati to New York that enables the business man to transact business in Cincinnati one day and New York the next. It is the only train for Jersey City Coast resorts, which are reached by the F. F. V. at dinner time instead of in the evening. It is the only train that enables business men to transact business in Cincinnati one day and reach Washington for breakfast the next morning. It is the most desirable train for New England resort connections being made in the Union Depot in Washington with the Colonial Express running through to Boston which reaches New Haven 4:10 p.m., New London 5:30 p.m., Providence 7:15 p.m. and Boston 8:30 p.m. The F. F. V. is the only modern train lighted throughout with Electricity, carrying a Dining Car and an Observation Car.

The Washington and Atlantic Express, also an Electric Lighted Vestibuled train, will leave Cincinnati at 7:00 p.m., reaching Washington 2:40 p.m. and Old Point Comfort 6:00 p.m. Connection is made at Washington with the Boston Express or the Limited, reaching New York about 9:00 p.m. At Norfolk connection is made with the Old Dominion Steamship Line, reaching New York 3:00 p.m. the next day.
